

No formal academic skills required

- Do you have a clinical question that needs answering?
- Are you interested in getting evidence into practice?
- Would you like to investigate the evidence for best practice, in your clinical area?

Critically Appraised Topic Groups (CATs) bring together the expertise of clinical teams, academics and librarians to critically appraise research evidence to determine a clinical bottom-line.

Join Associate Professor for Nursing Liz Lees-Deutsch to find out how you can translate evidence into practice and get answers to your clinical questions by establishing your own CAT group at UHCW.

For an informal discussion about the training, please email: Liz.Lees-Deutsch@uhcw.nhs.uk

SCAN ME

Critically Appraised Topic Groups – Train the Trainer session
Tuesday 29th March | 10am - 12pm | MS Teams

Register online here or scan the QR code