

Head & Neck Cancer Team

Head & Neck team

The Head and Neck multidisciplinary team (MDT) consists of:

- Doctors
- Specialist Nurses
- Dental Nurses
- Dietitians
- Speech & Language Therapists
- Histopathologist
- Radiologist
- MDT Facilitator
- Maxillofacial Technologists

The Head and Neck team consists of doctors, nurses, dietitians and speech and language therapists who work together to provide a package of care that is appropriate for each individual patient.

Due to the nature of head and neck cancers the different investigations and treatment options available, you may need to see more than one specialist. For this reason the Head and Neck cancer team meet on a weekly basis to discuss all patients with a view to recommending the appropriate treatment plan for each individual patient.

Following the meeting, the decisions made are then discussed with you and your relatives in the combined Head and Neck clinic.

During the combined clinic you will be allocated a key worker (usually a nurse) who will play a key role in supporting you during your treatment. Their aim is to provide specialist advice and support for patients and their carers from diagnosis onwards.
