

Tim Robbins —NIHR Clinical Lecturer

I am an NIHR Clinical Lecturer at University Hospitals Coventry and Warwickshire NHS Trust (UHCW). I have completed my PhD in Engineering at the Institute of Digital Healthcare (IDH), WMG at the University of Warwick and am now an Honorary Associate Professor to IDH. I work clinically as a Diabetes, Endocrinology and General Medicine Registrar.

I have an active interest in metabolism, multi-morbidity, digital health and healthcare systems having gained international experience in the United States and the Basque Country through a Winston Churchill Memorial Trust Fellowship and an Albert Renold Fellowship. I have secured, and am involved with a range of research projects and grants including the EU Horizon 2020 CAREPATH Grant.

I have recently participated in the inaugural Health Education England Topol Digital Health Fellowship Scheme and am currently completing my MBA with Coventry University. I have been involved in the clinical, academic and organisational response to the COVID-19 pandemic at UHCW and am currently working with the West Midlands Clinical Senate considering Healthcare Inequalities in Service Restoration and Long COVID Care models.
